A consummate performer speaks to your managers and teams about improving performance

My mission is to help managers and teams improve performance so they can better relate and serve the people around them. I'm honored to share these insights and stories with audiences around the globe.

For many years, I've been performing as a comedy magician on stage, making thousands of people laugh until it hurts. I admit that I'm not the best magician in the world.

There are many magicians who have better finger skills and sleight-of-hand. To compensate, I use every people skill I know to my advantage: tone of voice, volume, eye contact, physical motion, facial expressions, and so forth. Over the years, I've learned a lot about how to connect with people, produce a healthy workplace culture and am excited to share these insights.

Other insights come from seeing conflicts between people, asking why they happen, and coming up with solutions to solve them. I've learned from people all around me, from both good and bad examples.

There are instruction manuals for just about anything you buy, be it a dishwasher, a TV, a car, you name it. But when it comes to life, no one was born with an instruction manual. Wouldn't it be great if better people skills can be learned and greater productivity can be achieved? Well, it's possible when we all perform at our best!
