“Powered Up Leadership Connector”

Inspiring Quote:

“I define connection as the energy that exists between people when they feel seen, heard, and valued; when they can give and receive without judgment; and when they derive sustenance and strength from the relationship.”

— Brené Brown

It’s your choice. You can choose whomever you want for to speak at your next event. And when it’s over, what do you want your attendees to say about the experience?

Meet Alan Samuel Cohen: Alan is a professional certified business and executive coach; sought-after speaker; and corporate trainer. His expertise in the areas of connection as it relates to business, relationships, community, and leadership make him an ideal speaker for conferences, meetings, and workshops. His wide-ranging professional experiences give him unique insight into making the connections in all areas of life in order to become more productive, more effective, and more successful. Prior to becoming a professional coach, nearly a decade ago, Alan worked in marketing and human resources for more than twenty years. He co-founded “The Positivity Project,” an initiative intended to create global optimism in the workplace.

Among the numerous and notable positions he has held over the years, Alan served as Scholastic Inc.’s Director of Marketing, leading the promotion team for the multi-million-copy bestselling Harry Potter book series. He wrote “Those Difficult Talks for PR Pros: How Best to Say What Needs to be Said to Clients, Colleagues and Employees.” His new book, “The Connection Challenge: How Executives Create Power and Possibility in the Age of Distraction” was published in 2018 (Indie Books International).

Testimonials for Alan Cohen:

“I first met Alan a number of years ago when I heard him speak at an industry conference. I came away impressed with his insights, style and approach – so much so that when my senior leadership was facing some significant issues several years later, I brought Alan in to work with our team. I would enthusiastically recommend Alan to any organization that is looking for a highly-skilled and effective speaker and facilitator.”

- Nick Kalm, President, Reputation Partners

“Alan Cohen recently presented at the PRSA’s Counselors Academy Spring Conference and did a wonderful job of engaging and motivating our membership of senior-level agency managers. We’re not an easy group to impress, but Alan managed to get us thinking in a whole new way, and we continue to talk about what we learned. I highly recommend him. – Anne Subervi, Former President, Public Relations Society of America, Counselors Academy
