ABOUT JEFF FOLEY

Leadership Coach, Speaker, Author

Jeff Foley retired after 32 years in the US Army as a Brigadier General leading organizations from 40 – 8000 people. Today he works with business leaders who want to achieve greater results by developing positive, lasting change in behavior for themselves and the people they lead. As a result of his work, his clients often share they have more competence and confidence in their leadership role, more focus on what matters, and have more influence with the people they lead.

He is a Marshall Goldsmith Stakeholder Centered Coach®, a Channel Partner with the Ken Blanchard Companies, and authored two books including his latest BRAVE Business Leadership: Grow Competent, Confident Leaders and Get Great Results was released in 2019.

On a personal note, Jeff played intercollegiate sports at West Point, was an Eagle Scout, and remains a lifetime Cincinnati sports fan.
